Following a successful 4-H and FFA youth judging career, Alex attended the University of Wisconsin-River Falls where he judged in several collegiate contests and earned All-American honors in 2016. While in college, Alex worked at and often visited many elite Holstein herds in Northwest Wisconsin. For the past seven years following graduation, Alex has brought those skills and knowledge home to the family dairy farm. He has also judged dairy shows at several county fairs, coached local dairy judging teams, and taught judging and showmanship skills to youth at dairy workshops.
