Growing up as the tenth generation on Brigeen Farms in Turner, Maine, presented unforgettable opportunities to watch the best in the show and sale business at work, and formed the framework for a lifetime interest in shows and the networks of great cattle and great people. After college, some time spent fitting, and in dairy nutrition work, Betsy returned to Brigeen, where 600 Registered Holsteins now average over 31000 pounds with a BAA of 108.4 and a farm team that includes parents Steve and Mary Briggs, sister Vivian, husband Bill, and children Sydney and Will. Betsy has judged youth and open shows around the Northeast and particularly enjoys teaching the next generation of show enthusiasts.
